Vision	Villages are liveable and fit to live and work in.	Farmers are key actors in food production and have resilient businesses.	Our landscape is well adapted to and able to mitigate the consequences of climate change.
Goal	Communities are socially coherent and are attentive to the integration of newcomers .	Farmers use forms of regenerative agriculture to make their businesses more resilient.	Our landscape is able to deal with periods of drought as well as flooding.
Measure	We support initiatives that combat loneliness and social exclusion. Investment in public infrastructure are only applicable if based on participation and co-creation with the local community.	We support experiments with new cultivations, reevaluating of old (forgotten) cultivations, alternative protein sources etc.	We create more open space for water collection like reservoirs, remeandering of rivers and restoration of river banks.
Action	Depending on the project calls.	Depending on the project calls	Depending on project calls
